Fall 2006

Instructor: Neeraj Bajracharya
E-mail: neeraj@unt.edu
Office Hours: TR 1:30-3:30 PM and by appointment
Required Text: Thomas' Calculus, 11th Edition, by Thomas, Finney and Weir
Prerequisites: Math 1650 with C or better grade
Course website: www.math.unt.edu/~nb0042

Grading: There will be a total of 500 points available in this course. The points will come from weekly homework, tests and comprehensive final. Home works are collected every Tuesday, except for week one and worth 10 points each. There will be three fifty-minute long in-class tests. Each tests worth 100 points and the Final exam worth 100 points as well. There are no make-up exams except for emergencies, and late homework will not be accepted. If you miss an exam, you will receive a zero.

Test1 Tue, Feb. 12
Test2 Thu, Mar. 13
Test3 Thu, Apr. 24
Final Tue, May 06 from 8:00 to 10:00 AM

Homework assigned for one week is due the following Tuesday. The assignments must be stapled in order, easy to read, and labeled with your name, class, section number, and the assignment number. Don't turn in work that is messy.

Grading Scale:

90-100%	A
80-89%	B
70-79%	C
60-69%	D
0-59%	F

Comments:

- It is a very good idea to read about the next day's lecture before that lecture occurs because it helps enforce the ideas developed in class.
- You can discuss your assignments with others to develop a good understanding of the subject. However, if you copy your friends' work or copy out of solution manuals, this will not help you do well on tests and final. Please do your own work.
- Take advantage of the help available for this course. Use my office hours.
- Exams will be patterned mostly after the homework problems assigned.
- Evaluation: This term, student evaluation of the instructor will be done online at <http://evaluate.unt.edu>. The website will be open from Monday, Apr 21 to Friday, May 5. Please note that completing this evaluation is mandatory.
- To students with disabilities: It is the responsibility of students with certified disabilities to provide the instructor with appropriate documentation from the Dean of Students Office.
- Finally, good luck this semester.
